

BAD INTERSECTION, because a number of traffic accidents have occurred there, is the juncture of Moraga Highway and Brookwood Road. Both the Orinda Association and the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, as well as the County Public Works Department, are concerned over the problem. Comments Vary as Protest To 'City' Kills Election

With additional protests to Orinda incorporation still arriving at the county assessor's office in Martinez (even though the Board of Supervisors last week declared it could not schedule an Orinda incorporation election, due to sufficient protests having already been filed), sharply divergent comments on the situation were made by Orindans this week.

Mrs. E. C. Drews, 166 Canon Drive, in a letter addressed to the Orinda Property Owners Group (which had spurred the protest drive), said:

"The unplanned developments which have taken place in these (18) years do not enhance the beauty of our Orinda. Will your plans 'keep Orinda the way it is now,' to the exclusion of further 'unplanned' projects—service stations, for instance? The present way of zoning seems to permit any changes desired, simply by approval of the Board of Supervisors, without regard to 'Orinda's Rural Character'."

CLARENCE BETZ, a member of the Orinda Property Owners' Group, stated:

"I think that the protests against incorporation show specifically that people who were interested in their community were able to express themselves in a grass roots movement."

"Perhaps the protests against incorporation indicate a trend on the part of property owners and voters to demand more realistic factual data, especially when it will directly affect the property owner's pocketbook."

Betz is secretary-treasurer of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce and secretary and finance officer of the Orinda Fire District. ERNEST SPIEGEL, chairman of the Orinda Committee for Incorporation, said:

"If it was the will of the majority of the people that there is to be no election, I will be perfectly satisfied with the results. However, I am in some doubt regarding the statements made to this effect that the majority of the people have protested the election."

"It may be possible to check the county clerk's record, to determine who were the protesters and whether or not they comprise either a majority or a large minority of the registered voters. At the present time I do not know if we have the means of making such a check."

HORACE BREED of the Orinda Property Owners Group commented:

"First, what happened is a quite significant indication of how the people of Orinda feel, inasmuch as not only owners of land representing more than half the assessed valuation (unimproved) of Orinda land expressed themselves as opposed to incorporation, but, also, it was indicated that approximately two-thirds of the Orinda voters protested."

"Another thing — I would say that this is a more democratic type of vote than if the matter went to an election. This gave the non-resident as well as the resident property owners the chance to express themselves."

GENE ESTES, president of the Orinda Association, stated: "I'm very disappointed that the question couldn't be settled by an election and that there couldn't be a full discussion prior to such a vote."

Richard Bartle of the Orinda Committee for Incorporation remarked: "At this time incorporation seems defeated. Only time will tell whether or not the result is in the best interests of the community."

In Martinez, Deputy County Assessor Gerald Tara stated his office would tabulate remaining protests soon. "I hope to wind it up next week," he said.

School Enrollment is up To Record Total of 98,451

Contra Costa County schools now enroll 5900 more children than were registered in October, 1956, sending the total to a record 98,451, kindergarten through junior college.

Also, reported County Superintendent B. O. Wilson, the rate of increase—8.4 per cent—rose to its highest point since 1953-54. In the interval population loss in the Richmond area and lesser gains elsewhere were reflected in a declining rate of increase in the total county enrollment. Richmond Elementary District enrollment is now stabilized, said Wilson, having gained 8 per cent, while Richmond Union High School District gained 6.1 per cent.

"Largest gains in the county were registered in Moraga, Canyon and San Ramon Elementary Districts, Acalanes Union and Mt. Diablo Unified high schools and Contra Costa Junior College," said the superintendent.

Moraga School District located in the heart of the Utah Construction residential development area, experienced a gain of nearly 46 per cent. Enrollment was 118, compared with 81 in 1956—and 32 in 1952.

In rural San Ramon Valley the four school districts gained 384 pupils, the equivalent of 12 classrooms, while in the more populous Mt. Diablo area there was an increase of 1863 students, equaling 62 classrooms.

Street Naming, House Numbering Plans Underway

A countywide plan for the naming of streets and the addressing of buildings will soon be in effect, according to an action taken by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors.

Design Associates were awarded a $4600 contract to draw a plan for a county wide house numbering and cities of the county will be asked to cooperate.

In the past the post office department has been responsible for the assigning of numbers and the naming of streets in Contra Costa. The post office department will no longer accomplish this after January 1.

Thomas G. Heaton, county planning director, pointed out to the supervisors that each post office in each community has had a different plan for house numbering and street naming, therefore, a great many duplications have resulted.

Although the plan will be ready by about April, no changes will be made until next November.

Three Honored For Work in Conservation

Three Contra Costans have received special awards for their outstanding work in the cause of conservation in California.

Edward N. Munns of Concord, Mrs. Basil M. Winslow of Orinda, and William Drake of Canyon received awards for generous and effective service and leadership to the people of California in the cause of conservation at the California Conservation Council annual meeting in Berkeley November 19.

They were among a group of 21 men and women selected from throughout the state to receive 1957 merit and honor awards.

All three are locally active in the Contra Costa Park and Recreation Council. Munns is its president; Drake a vice-president; and Mrs. Winslow chairman of the highway landscaping and parkways committee.

Statewide, Munns is chairman of the advisory board of nature conservancy. Mrs. Winslow is a conservation leader in the California Garden Clubs, Inc. Drake is western representative for nature conservancy.

Postmaster Assistant

Jim Doyle has been appointed assistant postmaster of the Orinda Post Office. It was announced this week by Mrs. Laura Mallory, postmaster.

Jury Deadlocked; Retrial Monday for Bunce Secretary

Gail Harrison, the Walnut Creek secretary of convicted swindler John Bunce, will be back in court Monday morning after her malicious mischief trial ended in a hung jury Monday.

Municipal Judge C. Stanley Wood of Oakland discharged the jury after it reported it was deadlocked 5-7 in favor of acquittal.

MISS HARRISON, 19, has been charged with smashing her way into Bunce's office in the Financial Center Building on October 18. Thomas F. J. Carroll, president of Pacific States Securities Corporation filed the malicious mischief complaint against the pretty secretary of 1015 Mountain Avenue.

Miss Harrison has freely admitted that she broke into the office by breaking a glass window with her purse to gain entry on the night of October 18. Her statements were made on the witness stand.

FOREMAN ELSTON Runyon of Oakland told the judge the issues were "too complicated" and there was no chance of a break in the deadlock. The jury had been in session for over two hours.

Miss Harrison testified she removed the records to find evidence to prove she worked for Bunce's firm, the Pacific States Securities Corporation.

She said she wanted the evidence for the Labor Commission in support of her claim for three weeks salary. Carroll has repeatedly stated she worked for Bunce and not for the corporation.

DEPUTY DISTRICT Attorney Eric Schnurmacher pointed out that Miss Harrison's testimony concerning why she removed records from the office was her fifth version of the incident.

"I'm tired of being told to keep my mouth shut and having to lie to protect others who were involved with Mr. Bunce, Miss Harrison said indignantly during the trial.

"It is no secret there were others who knew what Bunce was doing. There are others involved with him financially whose names have not come out. Some of them are in high places and some of them got all or part of their money back before the roof fell in," she claimed.

DAVID LEVY, Contra Costa deputy district attorney, noted in another aspect of the Bunce case that his investigations were just about complete and he was almost ready to draw up his case against J. Allen Madison.

Madison, 75 Alberta Terrace, Walnut Creek, has been charged with felony violation of the State Corporations Code. He is free on $1000 bail and his case will be heard in Contra Costa Superior Court.

Madison is charged with accepting $19,400 for purchase of Parke-Davis pharmaceutical stock from Paul Haller, a Buncie victim who later committed suicide, without having a certificate authorizing him to sell securities.

Campaign Starts to Stop Recorder Retirement Fund

A one-family campaign to stop payment of over $400 per month for life to ousted County Recorder Ralph Cunningham in retirement funds has resulted in the hiring of an attorney to authorize litigation proceedings through the courts.

Mark Valory and his wife of Lafayette, retained the services of W. H. Hoogs to determine if payment of the pension to Cunningham could be stopped.

CUNNINGHAM was found guilty by a superior court jury in a non-criminal trial on two counts of malfeasance in office. Under the bill of accusation submitted by the Contra Costa Grand Jury, the penalty for being found guilty was removal from office with no fine or imprisonment.

"It is my opinion that there would be an excellent chance to enjoin payment of the pension to Cunningham, but of course, we couldn't prevent his obtaining a refund of his own contributions to the pension fund, Hoogs wrote to Valory after an initial study of the case.

"The litigation will cost much more than we can afford by ourselves, no matter how important this issue is to us. It should be important to every resident of Contra Costa County, and especially those who would like to see a large-scale clean-up of our county government," said Valory.

"As our attorney has said, the winning of this case would set an important precedent, for what real good does it do for us to have found out that a trusted official has been guilty of malfeasance in office and has been ousted, if we read in the next paragraph that the taxpayers will be contributing heavily to his income for the rest of his life.

"WE WOULD LIKE to continue this fight, and we would like to hear from anyone who would be willing to contribute toward the expenses involved," he continued.

Proceedings against Cunningham to stop his retirement pay would be undertaken by the Contra Costa District Attorneys office should the board of supervisors direct such action, according to Tom McBride, Assistant District Attorney.

The board noted that it had not considered any such action to instruct the district attorney's office to institute proceedings in an effort to halt the retirement pay of Cunningham.

Ray S. Taylor, chairman of the board, informed The Sun that no citizens had brought the matter to the attention of the board as yet.

IN ANSWER to a letter written to Donald Doyle, assemblyman, and Mel E. Nielsen, second district supervisor, by H. A. Altorfer of Orinda, Desmond Teeter, county administrator, explained the retirement system of the county.

"The retirement act under which this county functions and which was approved by the electorate in 1944, makes membership in the Retirement Association compulsory for all employees except elected officials, for whom membership is optional."

plus the interest which has accrued thereon, amounted to a total of $927.23," said Teeter.

"The law treats retirement pay as part of a system of compensating the employee. The sums built up in trust for his account constitute a right and are, from the county's standpoint, a contractual nature, the status of Mr. Cunningham's retirement could not be modified by any future legislation," Teeter continued.

"WE SEE NO reason why the law should not be modified so that in the future an employee of the county who is an elected official may be penalized when dishonestly separated from the service by a withholding of a part or all of the portion of his retirement contributed by the taxpayers," Teeter noted.

Altorfer commented that the law should be amended so that an employee who is discharged under semi-honorable or dishonorable circumstances or "when permitted to resign in the face of criminal action," is entitled to the full amount he has paid in cash—and no more than that.

"A little simple arithmetic shows that if we pay Cunningham $400 per month for the next 20 years the cash payments alone will amount of $96,000. For that price we can afford to amend the law," he said.

Mrs. Kral Gets Warm Farewell

The home of Mrs. Howard Gardner at 37 Irving Lane, Orinda, was the setting November 14 for a luncheon and shower given by Mrs. Gardner in honor of Mrs. James Kral.

Those attending the affair and bearing gifts included Mesdames George Empey, Wallace Riddell, Carl Gravelle, George Parnham, DeLos Winkler, John McCormack, Han Schnitler, William Leonard, Earnest Starkman, Vernon Hudson, Cecil Cantrill, Marshall Fish, Fred Rust, William Kaufman and Palmer York.

The board noted that it had not considered any such action to instruct the district attorney's office to institute proceedings in an effort to halt the retirement pay of Cunningham.

2 Miramonte Clubs Visit Labs at Cal

On Tuesday the Math Club and Electronics Club of Miramonte High School motored to the University of California to explore the workings of the electronic computers in the university's laboratories.

This was the initial field trip of the year for both clubs. "The trip affords excellent opportunity for the students interested in the fields of math or science to see how a real computer actually works," said John Darrah, Math Club advisor.

Bank Pays Dividend

The board of directors of Oakland Bank of Commerce voted November 19 to pay stockholders a regular semi-annual dividend of $2 per share. Payment will be made December 10.

Supervisors Merge 2 Offices, Save $58,000

Two offices were merged and another created by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors Tuesday in Martinez.

The offices of County Coroner and Public Administrator were merged and the office of Public Guardian was created.

THE MOVE, according to County Administrator Desmond Teeter, is expected to save the county $58,000 a year. Raymond B. Johnson, of Martinez will serve as the full-time county deputy coroner, public administrator and public guardian.

The posts will be under civil service and will pay a total of $850 per month.

County Coroner Dr. L. H. Fraser will receive no extra pay for the added administrator and guardian titles.

John, as public administrator of the city of Martinez for the past 25 years, has been collecting an average of $9300 annually for fees collected from the estates of persons who die without surviving kin or wills disposing of their property.

IN ADDITION, private attorneys have received legal amounts and the legal work will be done by the district attorney's office.

The county does not receive any compensation for chronic, incompetent patients at the county hospital who have no guardians. Under a new state law, the county may appoint a guardian, who serves without compensation.

Once the guardian has been appointed the patient is eligible for federal pension money which amounts to about $85 per month.

Board Members Get Proposed New Bylaws

Proposed amended bylaws for the organization were submitted Monday night to the Orinda Association board by Holland DuBois, chairman of the constitution and bylaws committee.

A copy of the proposed amended bylaws was given to each director. Lloyd MacDonald, an attorney and a member of the committee, explained some of the objectives of the committee.

Directors will study the proposed changes, and later will determine whether the subject merits a special board meeting.

Brown Act Is Topic Tuesday At CofC Meet

Tom McBride, Contra Costa County assistant district attorney, will speak on "The Brown Act" Tuesday noon, at a meeting of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce in the Casa Orinda.

The program has been arranged by Clarence Betz. McBride will review recent occurrences, and the county's position in enforcement.

Clipper Meet Is Next Friday

The next meeting of the Clipper Club will be held next Friday 8 p.m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney A. Anderson, 765 Jonas Hill Road, Lafayette.

Students from the International House at the University of California in Berkeley will speak on activities in foreign lands during the Christmas season.

Yuletide Tree To Be Lighted By Floodlights

The 15-foot-tall living Christmas tree in the "circle" at Bryant Way at the Crossroads, across from the Associated station, will be illuminated this yuletide season with floodlights.

The floodlights are scheduled for installation by next Monday by the Orinda Chamber of Commerce. The following Monday—December 9—the tree will be decorated by Orinda firemen and members of the Orinda Garden Club.

Mrs. Paul Pollaczek is chairman of the Christmas tree project for the Orinda Garden Club.

The tree will be decorated with Styrofoam "snowballs." Junipers around the base were planted by the Orinda Garden Club. Each month a different "team" from the garden club takes its turn at planting and maintenance.

More Contributions Are Needed for $100,000 Job

Perc Brown, president of the Orinda Library Board this week outlined the problems his group is having in raising sufficient money for a "modern library in a modern community," and stipulated that by cutting expenses to the bone, the project may cost less than $100,000.

3-Lot Request Gets Approval Of CC Planners

Approved 6-1 by the County Planning Commission Tuesday night with Commissioner George Honegger the lone dissenter, was the application of M. G. Farkasch for a variance permit to establish three lots on the present Lot 23 of Lost Valley Estates, at the northwest corner of Lost Valley Drive and Kenmore Court.

The three lots would be respectively 20,013 square feet, 20,101 square feet and 20,004 square feet in size.

The County Board of Adjustment had granted the application, but residents of the area appealed this ruling. The Board of Supervisors then referred the matter to the commission.

Following the Tuesday night commission meeting, Principal County Planner H. Russell Griffith stated that the commission felt that Karkasch's request was reasonable, despite the fact that objections had been expressed by the Lost Valley Community Club.

Griffith reported that the Lost Valley Community Club objected in principle to the application, since each lot would be smaller than 21,780 square feet, which is the standard minimum lot-size (half-acre) in a Residential-Agricultural zone. The area in question is zoned R-A.

The commission's recommendation now goes to the Board of Supervisors, which may accept the recommendation or may conduct a hearing of its own.

5. It should be well insulated and, if possible, with air conditioning. If possible, pedestrian traffic should enter and exit via ramp instead of stairs or steps.

6. APPROXIMATE enclosed area of a minimum of 4500 square feet.

7. An out-door reading area, if possible.

Brown said: "We do not intend to try to raise $130,000. We have hacked and hacked at the estimates without any attempt to reduce quality of construction or location."

"It depends on what Orinda will settle for. We can eliminate some desirable features; we can defer some others. We can reduce the size, though its not desirable. We can sacrifice the outdoor reading area."

BROWN POINTED out that cash plus pledge total some $83,000, but much of this will wither away before all is converted to cash.

He continued: "We know that $80,000 to $85,000 in any event is insufficient."

"If we receive one thousand checks for $25 or more each from Orinda families now or in December, or by January at the latest, assuming that pledges already made will be met, we can do an acceptable and thorough job."

Brown added that a working model has been made, and has been displayed in Orinda. Architects Aitken and Collins of Berkeley have been retained.

Experts have approved the plans, and they have also been okayed by the building committee and the Orinda Association. The East Bay Municipal Utility District has also given its approval of specifications.

Checks can be sent to The Orinda Library Board, Building Fund, P.O. Box 254, Orinda.

Hansen was driving east on Highway 24, a mile west of the Crossroads, when his car collided with the rear of a car driven by Henry L. Garibaldi, 46 of Danville. Garibaldi was unhurt.

Hansen's car was totally wrecked, and was not removed from the ravine until Wednesday. Hansen told officers that he was asleep in the back of the car at the time of the collision, but the California Highway Patrol lists him as the driver.

Orinda's Man of Year -- Who Will This Person Be?

Orinda is nearing the close of another year of considerable community activity and accomplishment. As 1957 nears its finale, local citizens, naturally, ponder the hard work and efforts on behalf of the community by many Orindans.

The question arises, as it does around this time each year: Who will be the Orinda Man (or Woman) of the Year for 1957?

Once again, The Sun is sponsoring the annual Orinda Man of the Year award. A committee of local citizens will be named soon to choose the person deemed to have contributed the most to the welfare of the community during 1957; prior years will also be taken into consideration.

The judges will be named soon. You can help them with your suggestions, although they can consider any local persons they wish for the honorary title. Although the award is sponsored by this paper, the selection is completely up to the judges.

The judges will welcome your suggestions. Send them to The Sun, P.O. Box 147, Orinda. Your recommendations will be turned over to the committee.

Announcement of the person chosen as the Orinda Man (or Woman) of the Year will be made in the January 3 issue of The Sun. Later, this individual will receive a plaque or certificate from The Sun.

Letters to The Editor

RE: CIVIC AFFAIRS

Dear Editor:

As a member of the Civic Affairs Committee of Orinda, I believe that that committee should be abolished.

This sounds, I realize, like rank heresy to most Orindans! But the fact is that it defeats the purpose for which it was organized, namely, to give the Board of Directors of the Orinda Association a democratic expression of the will of the people. The committee does anything but that. No one really "represents" his organization, because the issues are nearly always voted upon the same evening that they are presented, and no member has time to get an expression of opinion from his group.

Some of the associations have never met to discuss public issues, so that the representatives could not possibly know the will of the majority. And even if these members of the committee did really represent the clubs, they would only serve the folk of Orinda who belong to clubs.

The truth of the matter is that the committee of approximately 25 to 30 people actually rules the affairs of the community, especially now that they have asked the board to rescind actions already taken.

IT IS TRUE that according to the constitution, the committee can only make recommendations to the board, but in practice the recent boards have considered the recommendation as mandatory. What use is there in having

Moraga Estates Group to Elect Tuesday Night

The Moraga Estates Improvement Association's annual meeting for the purpose of election of officers and directors for 1958 will be held at the Orinda School auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The organization is also known as Orindans, Inc.

A slate of nominees will be offered. However, additional nominees for secretary and director will be welcomed prior to the meeting or from the meeting floor. Nominations to be made prior to the meeting may be phoned to the president, Clifford C. Rea.

"All members are urged to attend the meeting to consider a tax that is being assessed on our non-profit corporation by the Franchise Tax Board of the state that can affect the continuance of our organization. This tax matter will be voted on prior to the election of officers," Rea said.

Rigney Speaks To Rotarians

Bill Rigney, manager of the San Francisco Giants, who recently moved their national league program from New York, spoke Wednesday at a meeting of the Orinda Rotary.

Rigney said that his squad took sixth place last year, but he hopes to claim first division honors next year.

Tom Snow was program chairman. Next Wednesday noon at the Willows, Ted Lachelt of the Lachelt Travel Service, Oakland, will be the speaker.

Five Vie for 'Outstanding Young Man'

The search for Orinda's Outstanding Young Man of 1957, under sponsorship of the Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce, was narrowed to five candidates this week. The men under consideration for the award were:

Robert McAdam, general contractor in Orinda; W. E. Estes, engineer at Standard Oil and president of the Orinda Association; Robert Karplus, professor at the University of California in the Physics Department; Joseph Longacre, lawyer and civic worker, and the Rev. Albert Lucas, rector of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church of Orinda.

All of the candidates have been nominated as a result of their contribution either to their profession and or the welfare of the people.

Acting as judges for the final selection are Merle Brown, manager of the Orinda branch of the American Trust Company; Donald Dullum, president of Encinal Terminals in Alameda, and Dr. Ralph Hall, prominent civic leader.

Newcomer Club Dinner Will Be On Wednesday

During the meeting of the Newcomers Club at the Claremont Hotel November 20 it was decided that at our next meeting the group will start the proverbial ball rolling towards some good old "Christmas cheer"—that of a buffet dinner for members and spouses.

The meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. Arthur K. Flanagan, 42 Donald Drive, Orinda next Wednesday at 10 a.m.

Those caring to attend may call Mrs. John Bishop at 8 LaSombra Court, Orinda, or Mrs. Rhys Miller at 42 El Gavilan, Orinda.

H.S. Mothers Will Hear Talk On Teenagers

Teenage parties and recreation will be discussed at the regular meeting of the Orinda High School Mothers Club to be held at 12:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Spencer Archer, 1 Sally Ann Road, Orinda.

Guest speaker will be Mrs. Cedric Rountree, formerly a director of the Berkeley recreation department. She plans to present ideas for holiday parties and describe teenagers' needs for recreation.

Mrs. Peter Saputo, recreation chairman for the club, will report on community plans for high school students. A discussion period will follow.

Refreshments will be served at 12:30 by a committee under the direction of Mrs. David Puddy and Mrs. Vernon Fredericksen.

All mothers of high school students living in Orinda are invited to attend. Dues are $1 a year and go to a scholarship fund for a high school senior in the fine arts living in Orinda.

Glorietta to Hold Holiday Lights Contest

Participants may insure consideration of their decorations by calling a committee member.

The Glorietta Improvement Association is sponsoring a neighborhood Outdoor Christmas Lightings Contest.

First prize will be a $25 United State Savings Bond, donated by the Association. Five other prizes, valuable merchandise, will be offered.

Only illuminated outdoor decorations will be considered. Only residents in the area serviced by the association are eligible for prizes. They need not be association members.

Prizes will be awarded for artistry and originality.

The decorations must be up by December 18. Judging will be from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. on the evenings of December 19, 20 and 21.

Winners will be notified on December 22. Committee members include Phil Mittell, Art Flint, John McCosker and Bob Grant.

Arthur Flint Now on County Waste Board

Arthur Flint of Orinda is a new member of the Contra Costa County Waste Disposal Committee. He replaces George Haukerken of Orinda, who recently resigned from the committee.

Flint was recently appointed to the post by the County Board of Supervisors, after the Orinda Association board had nominated him.

The committee consists of 17 citizens acting in an advisory capacity to the Board of Supervisors. At a meeting November 20 in the County Health Department building in Martinez, attended by Flint, John Nejedly of Walnut Creek was elected chairman.

The Waste Disposal Committee was reactivated last month for the purpose of helping revise a proposed ordinance it recommended two years ago to regulate and franchise garbage and trash collecting firms in the unincorporated sections of the county.

The supervisors took no action on the proposal in 1955 but they have reopened the matter at the request of Health Department and Mosquito and Fly Abatement Disofficials.

New Circles Of Guild Now Being Formed

New circles of the Women's Guild of the Orinda Community Church are being formed for the coming year.

There will be four day and two evening groups. The circles meet once a month at some member's home. Any new resident or person interested may call Mrs. Jess (Marion) Long, 22 South Trail, Orinda.

Mrs. Mildred Rackley Simon, well-known local area artist, is designing and hand-screening six beautiful Christmas Cards. The cards may be seen this week at Ogden's and Simon's hardware stores.

Orders for these originals will be taken through Sunday. The proceeds will go toward the building fund of the Orinda Community Church.

Residential area representatives are Mrs. Chauncey Blossom, Orchard Road; Mrs. Helmut Weber, Sleepy Hollow; Mrs. Lee Atkins Glorietta; Mrs. George Anderson, El Toyonal; Mrs. Don Searff, Country Club, and Mrs. Kirk Miles, Village business area.

Board OKs Civic Affairs Recommendation by 3 to 2

By a vote of 3 to 2, with one member abstaining, the Board of Directors of the Orinda Association on Monday night approved the recommendation of the Civic Affairs Committee regarding this year's election of association directors.

On motion of Arthur Flint, seconded by Holland DuBois, the board voted:

1. All members who are 1957 members in good standing will be permitted to vote.

2. All persons who become 1953 members during the current membership drive will be permitted to vote.

3. All others in Orinda will also be mailed ballots; each of these ballots will be counted if the return ballot is accompanied by a membership dues check for 1953.

VOTING in favor of the motion were Directors Flint, DuBois and Gene Estes, president.

Voting against the motion were Directors Marvin Baker and Norman Channingham.

Director Claire Ward, the association secretary, abstained from voting.

Ballots are to be mailed out next month.

THE CANDIDATES are: Arthur Peterson and Richard Leland for the post now held by W. E. Estes, John Smith and Lyle Gardner for Robert Walpole; Kenneth B. Anderson, Donald Anderson and Eric Nielsen for Mrs. Claire Ward.

Mrs. Wilbur Koehler, H. C. Booth and Donovan DeWitt for Marvin Baker; William Thornton White and Donald Manuel for Holland DuBois.

The terms are two years. Howard Dauphine and Dr. Ralph Hall have been nominated to complete the one-year term of Mrs. Dorothy Adie, who has moved.

Orinda Garden Club Goal: Landscape the Crossroads

Still in the "talking" stages but with the definite hope of materialization by next spring is an ambitious plan approved by the board of the Orinda Garden Club for year-round landscaping and beautification of the Crossroads area at the western entrance to Orinda from Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Mrs. Paul Pollaczek, conservation chairman of the club, said that although the club board has approved the general idea and has authorized her to seek the cooperation of other organizations, the general membership of the Orinda Garden Club has yet to act on the suggested project.

"WE HOPE to be able to set up a committee with representatives from the Orinda Garden Club, Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce, Orinda Association, the Hilltop Garden Club and the Orinda Valley Garden Club, and maybe other groups," Mrs. Pollaczek said.

The Orinda Garden Club membership will have a business meeting in February.

At that meeting Mrs. Pollaczek hopes that the plan for permanent landscaping will be approved. Generally, the idea is to achieve beautification and plant shrubs in the area in front of the Lucky Store, behind the Sproule-Reitz store in the general vicinity of what is commonly considered the "southwest section" of the Crossroads.

"WE FEEL that that whole corner is Orinda's 'front door' but that it really looks like our 'back door'—a good part of the time," Mrs. Pollaczek said.

"We'd like to do something to make the Crossroads area blend in with the rest of the Orinda countryside."

Mental Health Proposal Slated for Board Wed.

Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle and Senator George Miller, Jr. have been invited to appear before the Board of Supervisors to present their views on implementing the Short-Doyle Act as a second hearing Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in Martinez.

Members of the recently formed Community Mental Health Coordinating Committee attended an initial hearing held in November at which time they presented a resolution.

THE RESOLUTION urged the Board to officially recognize the need to implement the Act which provides for state aid for expansion and improvement of local mental health services, according to Mrs. Arthur M. Ross of Lafayette.

Chairman of the Coordinating Committee, Mrs. Ross pointed out that with the passage of the Short-Doyle Bill, state funds will be available beginning Sunday.

Contra Costa is eligible under the provisions of the legislation. However this is contingent on meeting certain requirements. The Board must first appoint a Mental Health Advisory Board, whose first responsibility will be to review and evaluate the community's mental health needs, services, facilities, and special problems; then advise the governing body on a program to meet these needs.

THE SUPERVISORS must then choose a local Director of Mental Health Services, and must prepare a plan and budget for submission to the Department of Mental Hygiene, she explained. The resolution urged the Board of Supervisors to take these steps at the earliest possible date. It further requested the Supervisors to recognize the county-wide group officially as the Community Mental Health Coordinating Committee of Contra Costa County. Members of the Coordinating Committee include representatives from the following county departments and community organizations:

County Departments — County Administrator's office; Civil Service Commission; Contra Costa Junior College, East and West Campus; County Hospital; Health Department; Probation Department; County Superintendent of Schools; Sheriff's Office; Social Service Department.

Organizations — Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association; American Association of University Women; Concord, Martinez, Orinda, Pleasant Hill and Walnut Creek Branches; American Federation of Labor; County Bar Association; Richmond Bar Association; California Personnel Management Association; Central Contra Costa Mental Health Association; West Contra Costa Mental Health Association.

COMMUNITY Welfare Councils of Central, East and West Contra Costa; Contra Costa County Labor Health and Welfare Council; Contra Costa County Psychiatric Group; Council of Churches of Antioch, Central Contra Costa, and Richmond; County School Board Association; Danville Grange No. 85.

League of Women Voters of Concord; League of Women Voters of Richmond; Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers and Industrial Union Councils; Parent-Teachers Association, 32nd District; Mt. Diablo Unified School District; Rodeo School District; Brentwood School District.

4 Win Prizes In Diamond K Grid Contest

Harold G. Larsen, 2175 Oakvale, Walnut Creek, guessed the winners of 19 of last weekend's football games in Diamond K Supply's Football Contest — and so won a prize of $15 in merchandise orders.

Three other contestants — W. R. Smith, 175 Jackson Way, Walnut Creek; D. Caldwell, 1355 EL Curtola Boulevard, Walnut Creek, and Charles Langridge, 670 Moraga Highway, Orinda, each guessed 18 winners, so they shared a prize of $5 in merchandise orders.

Each week during the gridiron season Diamond K Supply lists 20 collegiate and professional football games scheduled for the weekend. The firm offers prizes totaling $45 in merchandise orders each week, as follows:

For guessing winners in all 20 games, $25 in merchandise orders; for guessing 19 winning teams, $15 in merchandise orders; for guessing 18 winning teams, $5 in merchandise orders. Tied games count as correct guesses, regardless of which team was picked. If more than one contestant scores in a prize-winning category, the successful contestants share the prize.

Entries must be received by Diamond K Supply, 3671 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, before 11 a.m. Saturday or must be postmarked before that time. For complete rules, see the Diamond K Supply advertisement in this issue.

Drama Shows 12 Angry Men In Jury Room

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL
Suspense drama which was both suspenseful and profound was on view at the LeFevre Memorial Theater on the St. Mary's College campus, Moraga, last weekend.

On Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights of last week audiences responded to the hour-and-a-half presentation in which the life of a 19-year-old youth was at stake. During that time a jury deliberated his fate.

Fortunately for me, I had not seen the television show by Reginald Ross, from which the stage version was adapted by Sherman L. Sergel. I say "fortunately" out of no disrespect to the television production, but simply because, when I sat down in the theater last Saturday night, I didn't know what was coming.

THE SETTING for the three-act play is a drab jury room. In it are a long table, a dozen chairs, a water cooler, a window. Twelve men come into the room to decide whether the defendant in a murder trial they have just heard is guilty or innocent.

During their arguments their own backgrounds, conflicts, frustrations and aspirations are revealed. Such a drama could be presented as just another thriller, if that was the limitation of the performing group. But in the production by the Drama Society of St. Mary's College, under the direction of Brother V. Matthew, F.S.C., "Twelve Angry Men" becomes what it obviously was intended to be — a penetrating search for motives and truth, not only regarding the defendant but also regarding the jurors.

While all the performers enacted their roles ably, special mention must be made of one of them — Larry Guther as juror number 8, who at the start is the lone juror to doubt that the defendant is guilty, and Terry Breen as juror number 3, who is the most vehement in his assertions that the defendant is guilty.

Breen, particularly, delivers an excellent performance, and in the final moments of the play his gestures and words have an impact such as that in a climax or a revelation of a deep psychological novel.

If you're looking for dramatic productions which are good entertainment and also something more — it would definitely be worth while to keep your eyes open for the next production.

Odets Play Puts You on Noah's Ark

By THE REVIEWER

Tomorrow night the rains will come down again and the story of Noah, his family, the ark and the animals will again be unfolded on the stage of the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center in Lafayette.

The version will be the delightful comedy, "The Flowering Peach," by Clifford Odets. Under the sponsorship of the Center Men's Club, the drama, which consists of three acts and an epilogue, is presented by the Center Stage Players.

Although the play is described as a comedy, there are also sadness and tragedy in it. But the work is so permeated with glimpses of man's ability to laugh, cry, work and rise above his own frailties and limitations that the Biblical story, as told and embellished by Odets, becomes a tale of people as we know them.

THAT, NO DOUBT, is what Odets is trying to convey. And that is what the Center Stage Players, under the direction of Leon Dinkin, succeed in conveying.

The performances of the two leading actors — Leon Cohen as Noah and Edith Dinkin as his wife, Esther — are superb.

Their three sons — Fred Marcus as Japheth, Don Sterns as Shem and Franklin Sher as Ham — are ably portrayed. The different personalities and desires of the three brothers form a continuing convincing picture of family life — and they also help explain why Noah takes the bottle now and again, between periods of divine inspiration.

Also well performed are supporting roles by Pearl Bloom as Leah, Eleanor Silverman as Rachel and Ethel Appel as Goldie. Harry Freeman as the tax collector and Sif Lifton as an old man enact their minor roles effectively. And we mustn't forget Marge Sterns as a lion; she does as well as can be expected, considering the role.

THE CHARACTERS are not some far-off persons in a long-ago time; they wisecrack, argue, blunder, try to understand, and rise to true heights, just like the people we know. Therein lies the play's power.

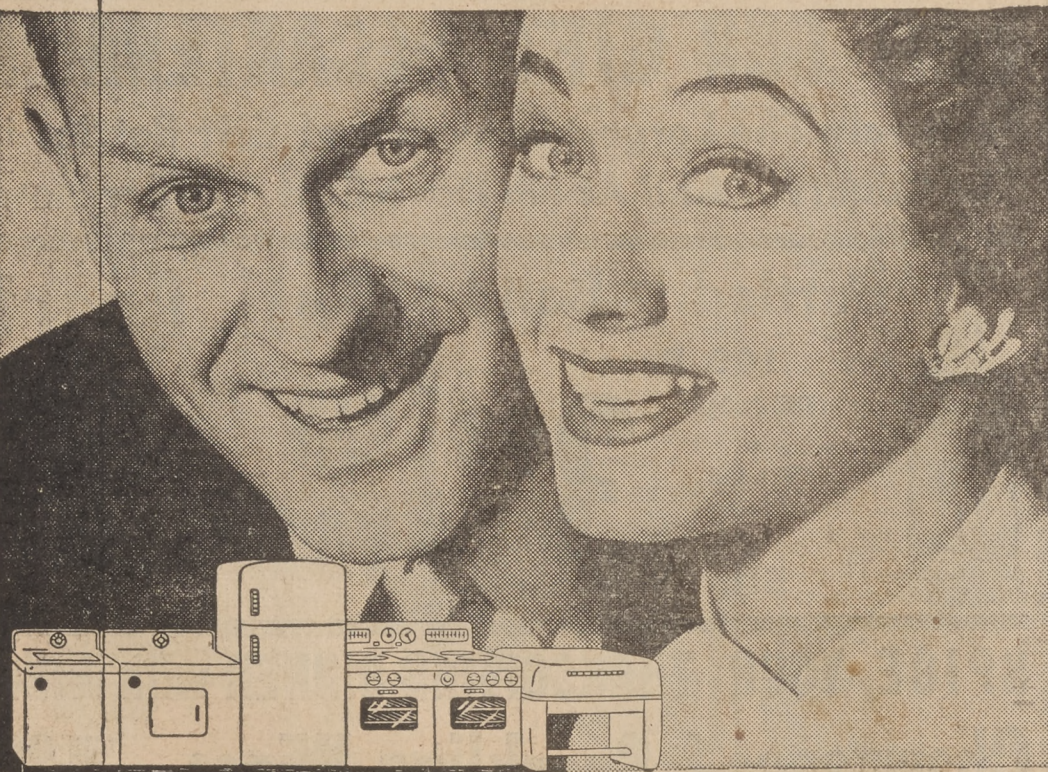

The play was presented last Saturday and Sunday nights. At the Sunday night performance, attended by this reviewer, the audience reacted appreciatively to the drama of the flood, the ark and man's finding of hope and courage.

Tomorrow night's performance of "The Flowering Peach" will be the final one in this presentation by the Center Stage Players. So hurry — get out of the rain, get into the auditorium where the play is being given. The Contra Costa Jewish Community Center is the north side of Mt. Diablo Boulevard, across from Sunset Village. Curtain time is 8:30.

Local Youngsters Are Tops in Photo Contest

The Walnut Creek and Lafayette areas boasted two top prize winners in the 23rd Annual Children's National Photograph Contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce D. McCreary of 3535 Boyer Circle, Lafayette and Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Axelson of 186 Ponderosa Lane, Walnut Creek, were recently notified that their children had been chosen as winners among the thousands of entries in the highly competitive photograph contest.

BLOND, BLUE eyed Gail McCreary took fifth place nationally. Her peaches and cream complexion and winning smile showed up to perfection in the entry photograph taken at Capwell's Department Store Photo Studio.

Photo winners seem to run in the McCreary family, for Gail's younger sister, Jeanne, won second prize in last year's contest, and received honorable mention in this year's.

Seven months old Noreen Axelson received important honors and won the Local Studio prize. Her tousle-haired picture, showing her blue eyes just on the verge of tears, was also taken at Capwell's.

FORMAL PRESENTATION of the children's awards, and awards for the other local winners, will be made at Capwell's Walnut Creek this week. Photographs of the winners are on display at the Photo Studio and in Capwell's window.

Burt Brad Christenson of Salt Lake City, Utah, sporting a tweed cap and quizzical smile, won the $500 National First Prize for his casual "Bing Crosby" look. The money, according to his mother, Joan Christenson, will be used for Brad's college education, with a few dollars taken out for a Christmas fire engine.

Judges included: Hugh O'Brien, television's famed lawman, Wyatt Earp; Patti Page, well known vocalist and recording star; Funnymen Paul Winchell and his friend Jerry Mahoney; Don Herbert, television's "Mr. Wizard"; Charles Schultz, cartoonist and creator of the lovable comic strip "Peanuts"; Esther Averill, prize winning author and illustrator of children's books.

HONORABLE MENTION winners from the local area are: Donald Baddeley, 1804 Noemi Dr., Concord; David Bond, 1371 Herminie Ct., Walnut Creek; Arthur Burton, 2212 Danville Hwy., Walnut Creek; Catherine and Theresa Chenard, 2410 Hemlock Ave., Concord; Laurie Collier, 4089 Los Arabis Rd., Lafayette; Debora Connors, 1489 Casa Vallecita, Walnut Creek; John Comacho, Danville; Robert Cornelius, 348 Marshall Dr., Walnut Creek; Denise Darocy, 4010 Alhambra Way, Martinez; Barbara Eichelberger, Naval Magazine, Concord; Tommy Ferre, 566 Lakeview Rd., Walnut Creek; Diane Galletti, 2036 San Miguel, Walnut Creek; Leanne Harrison, 1249 Plumleigh Lane, Concord; Linda and Pat Hewitt, 1736 Indiana St., Vallejo; Doug Johnson, 45 Sun Valley Drive, Walnut Creek.

X-Ray Policy Is Announced By Dr. Kent. Dr. Glen Kent, chief assistant health officer of Contra Costa County, announced the receipt on November 21 of a communication from the United States Surgeon General's office detailing their policy on the use of mobile X-ray units.

"This policy statement which has also been endorsed by the California State Health Department outlines the following six unifying recommendations for the use of Mobile X-ray Units" said Dr. Kent.

"These six principles have been met or exceeded in the County Health Department's use of the mobile X-ray unit for the past several years."

1. The use of mass chest X-ray surveys, operated under competent auspices is a fundamental technique in the detection of tuberculosis.

2. Mass X-ray case-finding should be applied selectively in groups with the greatest risk of tuberculosis infection.

3. All tuberculosis X-ray survey programs should have the prior approval of the applicable State or local health department.

4. Consideration should be given to the tuberculin skin test as an initial screening device in low prevalence groups.

5. Every community should evaluate on a continuing basis its tuberculosis problem, need and resources, so the local X-ray surveys may have efficient use and maximum effect.

6. Adequate safeguards should be utilized to protect all persons from unnecessary radiation.

Through the use of the mobile X-ray unit the Health Department discovered the following number of previously unknown new active cases of tuberculosis, 19 to date in 1957, 30 in 1956, 29 in 1955 and 37 in 1954.

In addition to these tuberculosis cases the mobile X-ray unit has assisted in the discovery of many previously unknown cases of cancer and heart disease.

Policies Discussed Discussion of a possible means of changing present discount control policies was the basis of a luncheon meeting of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County Monday. John M. Osmondsen, Walnut Creek is president of the group.

Animal Control Is Not Health Dept. Problem

"The Health Department is not responsible nor is it in any position to enforce animal control measures in Contra Costa County," Dr. H. L. Blum, county health officer said today.

"Only in cases where Rabies is suspected does the law require that such information be reported to the Health Department."

"It is unfortunate that both pound facilities and personnel are inadequate to enforce good control and routine follow-up of animal bite complaints rests in the incorporated areas with the city police or pound in unincorporated areas with the county pound.

Animal bites in the county may be reported to Martinez 2000, ext. 430, during weekends to the sheriff's office, Martinez 2620; and to the Walnut Creek police Department, YE 5-6400, if the case occurs in the city limits.

Orchard Nursery To Hold Annual Yule Work Shop

The art of making your own holiday decorations will be the theme of the annual Christmas Work Shop to be held at Orchard Nursery, 4011 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, next Tuesday and Wednesday.

As in the past, the creative hand guiding the show will be Carm White.

Miss White is well-known as the original founder of the old Art and Garden Center in Walnut Creek. In addition, she is a noted interior decorator and has gained wide recognition for her original and imaginative Christmas decorations. She has supervised the holiday program at Orchard Nursery for the past nine years.

This year Carm White will be assisted by a crew of skilled helpers who will demonstrate the do-it-yourself Christmas crafts.

The following women will serve as helpers: Myrtle Ambuehl, Adrienne Sowers and Constance Hansen from Lafayette, Marge Vallejo from Walnut Creek, Ruth East from Pleasant Hill and Betty Bauslaugh from Orinda.

Among the many items that will be demonstrated in the work shop will be original and unusual centerpieces, mantel decorations and door hangings.

In addition, there will be on display many novel types of arrangements created by Carm White especially for the event. One of the more unusual features will be Christmas trees decorated in many different motifs.

Bridge Track Removal? It's a Costly Absurdity

Any way we look at it, there can only be an increased demand for transportation between the East Bay, including Contra Costa County, and San Francisco and points west.

But there is a move afoot which will not only be negative as far as developing rapid transit is concerned—it will be a positive retardant, and probably cost several million of dollars as well.

WE ARE TALKING about the removal of Key system tracks from the Bay Bridge.

We agree with the two-county transit district that these tracks should not be removed.

Look at the confusion which exists over this matter.

The two-county rapid transit district is working on plans which include the use of the Bay Bridge tracks, and trains to run on those tracks.

What used to be the nine county rapid transit system, and has now boiled down to five counties, is also working on rapid transit plans which might also include use of those tracks.

But the state through the Public Utilities Commission has given conditional approval for the removal of these tracks and for the substitution of buses by Key System for the trains now operating.

THE KEY SYSTEM has announced that it is prepared to switch to buses between January 1 and February 28.

Admittedly, the tracks are in poor condition. This is one of the complaints this area has voiced with regard to the two-county system taking over Key System.

They would be faced with paying for trackage all over the City of Oakland, and either repairing it or replacing it—or tearing it up—and we would have to help foot the bill for something that we don't use.

But in this particular instance, we are in agreement with the two-county transit board. The Key System tracks should be left on the bridge.

In addition, there are many plans being formulated for rapid transit now. In view of the length of time that has been, and is being spent on the plans, we respectfully urge that the tracks be left intact.

Another year certainly isn't going to make that much difference.

It would be absurd to convert the bridge—at great cost — to motorized transport, and then later, at an additional cost of many millions of dollars, to convert it back. And certainly, if we are talking rapid transit, we are talking in terms of trains of some sort on the bridge. It is either that or give up rapid transit.

WHILE WE STILL think that this area should be excluded from the two-county rapid transit plans, we do agree with the district on this point. We think the district is sound in what it wants to do, but it will not benefit us materially, and we will be paying a considerable part of the bill.

Incidentally, the Contra Costa Transit Council has suggested that all who are not in agreement with the two-county rapid transit district and the inclusion of our area in it should pay that portion of their county taxes under protest.

They suggest that you just write the protest on your tax bill when you pay it. Then, if the area is divorced from the transit district, you would receive a refund of that tax. Also, it will come to the attention of the transit district board.

Drinking --- Fun? Failure?

By NORMAN COLBY

Many of us associate taking a drink with our first flush of adulthood, or with "having a good time," and often we are perfectly justified in doing so.

"Have a ball!", and "Have another drink!" are associated too, and for a real reason. A drink or two helps many people to relax after a long day, to forget their problems and to be relieved of muscular fatigue which otherwise might slow down a "good time."

But there is another side to it. We need only listen to the story of any one of the hundreds of thousands of men—and women too—who have quit drinking, or who are trying without success to quit. There is not a story of "having a ball." It's one of sickness, loss of work time, of loss of ambition, of loss of self respect.

FIGURES PREPARED by the Contra Costa County Health Department indicate that there are perhaps 12,000 alcoholics within this county alone. Of them, 2000 are women.

These 12,000 are not those who just take one drink too many once in a while, or those who go on a "toot" on their birthdays or anniversaries.

They are the people next door or down the street who found that a hang-over can be taken care of by another drink, and that the consequences or complications resulting from a "bender" can be "softened" by more drinking.

Also, if their shortcomings or situation have made them somehow dissatisfied with "life," a drink is a way to gloss over this, temporarily. It provides an excuse for not measuring up.

ACCORDING TO "Health Headlines" published this month by the Health Department, there were 22 deaths in the county last year due to alcoholism. From July to December, last year, there were another 14 deaths "In which alcohol was considered a primary contributing factor, as in automobile accidents, falls and burns."

"Health Headlines" continues, "About 50 per cent of all bookings at the county jail are either directly or indirectly attributed to the use of alcohol."

"The equivalent of three deputy district attorneys spend all their time handling legal cases—divorce, non-support, drunk driving, criminal—in which alcoholism has been a major contributing factor."

Another revelation: "At the present time, the County Social Welfare Department gives 'aid' to 51 persons who are unemployed due to manifest alcoholism."

A man or woman's right to have a drink is not questioned in California, and the Federal government's effort in this direction after World War I was a dismal failure. So, it has been up to the individual to "Put on the brakes" or "Blow the whistle."

This is especially difficult when the hero is like Don Birnam of Charles Jackson's "Lost Weekend", who after a spree, a beating and arrest, asked concerning his relatives and friends, "This one was over, and nothing had happened at all. Why did they make such a fuss?"

Top Dogs, Turkey , and A 'Thanksgiving' List

By Pat Pending

I'm trying to write this column in competition with "The Price is Right." Some gal just won a trip around the world valued at $4,000 plus. This doesn't impress me much. I'm waiting to win a trip to the nearest star. I understand that this round trip will take some two hundred years and scientist state that the original starters will have to reproduce themselves and train several new generations of galaxy travelers enroute. This intrigues me! But, being beyond the reach of earth radio, television, or radar — how can I keep track of the Forty Niners?

I think I'll wait until after the 1958 Football season!

Scientists are top dogs this year. Of course, there's a dog that is top scientist this year too!

Inventors are going to be real heroes in the coming years. I want to put my bid in for fame. I've invented a key that won't fit any lock! This is very handy because, if you lose it, you don't have to worry about it!

There was an unusual headline in my morning paper this morning. The Russians claim that they have all our key cities pinpointed for destruction and we say that they haven't. We say that we have all their key spots zeroed in and (you guessed it!) they say we haven't.

I understand a Judge got hitched this last week. It seems that he had avoided the bliss of matrimony for more than several years. I wish him an extended sentence!

I have an exclusive list of what prominent citizens and organizations were thankful for yesterday.

The California Water Company was thankful that the rain stopped.

The Sheriff was thankful that election is next year. The D.A. was thankful for the county offices and the county secretaries. And the county phones!

The Grand Jury was thankful that the Recorder was thankful. Goodwin Knight is thankful for something but I'm not sure what. Knowland is probably thankful that election is not this year. Pat Brown is thankful that election is next year.

And Pat Pending is thankful to be able to be thankful.

Hope you enjoyed your Turkey — and that Russia doesn't.

Letters to The Editor

"RURAL CHARACTER" • •

Dear Editor:

I have just written a letter to the Orinda Property Owners Group which I wish I had written when I first heard of its efforts.

I have asked, "Will you kindly advise at your earliest opportunity just what stens the Orinda Property Owners Group are prepared to take to insure NO increase in taxes (if Orinda does not incorporate) and to 'preserve Orinda's rural character by keeping it the way it is now'?" I also said, "When we moved to Orinda 18 years ago, we, too, wished 'to get away from the city,' but when more and more people came here to enjoy the country benefits to the extent of growth now being made in this area, we realized that it could no longer be 'the country' to which we moved."

"The unplanned developments which have taken place in these years do not enhance the beauty of Orinda. Will your plans 'keep Orinda the way it is now' to the exclusion of further 'unplanned' projects—service stations, for instance? The present way of zoning seems to permit any changes desired simply by approval by the Board of Supervisors, without regard to 'Orinda's Rural Character.'"

When I receive an answer I will be glad to share it with The Sun, if you do not already have the information.

DOLLS NEEDED!

Dear Editor:

Dollies, Inc., is in urgent need of Christmas dolls to dress for needy children in this area. At present, materials and a working staff are at hand — but — few dolls!

Families with little girls (present or grown), please look and try to find some (the bigger the better) — dolls that is! We wash 'em, trade arms, legs and heads, when necessary, and dress 'em in most up-to-date and approved fashions. Christmas Bureau (with help of the Red Cross) distributes them.

When the dolls are found, place in a paper sack or carton and take promptly to the nearest fire house: Christmas Bureau at 1640 Main Street, Walnut Creek, open from 9 - 5; or to the Red Cross building, Walnut Creek, also open 9 - 5 Monday through Friday.

The Christmas Bureau budget is small this year, so used dolls must be rehabilitated to bring joy to small misses — or big disappointments will result. Thanks so much, folks! MAE WATKINS

Group Formed to Spur Industry

A sub committee of the Contra Costa County Development Association has been organized to spur industry location in the county, improve zoning conditions and discuss industrial financing and other problems.

It is composed of railroad representatives, industrial realtors and Development Association members who will operate as a sub-group of the Association's industry location committee, headed by Jack Towne of Martinez.

Establishment of the sub committee was accomplished at a meeting of 15 railroad men and realtors, Towne and Association Manager Iona M. Booth. All phases of industrial location were discussed.

THE NECESSITY of coordinated effort in industry location was stressed by Charles M. Byrne of Parr Terminal Company, who said that there are 6000 industrial location groups in competition in the United States.

Utility Bills Too High? Higher Rates Are Coming!

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Have you checked your utility bill lately? Like everything else, gas, electricity and phone service seem high — and unfortunately they are going to be still higher. The California Public Utilities Commission now has applications from Pacific Gas and Electric Company and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph for rate increases. Some hearings have been held; others are forthcoming.

Opposing the applications are federal and local government representatives.

What is a fair rate?

The entire question of "fair and equitable" utility rates is very difficult and complicated. We must depend on the experts of the P.U.C. to determine what is fair. It is essential, of course, that our public utilities earn enough money to provide good service. There is no question that the utilities, like all other businesses, face constantly increasing costs. The companies point out the greatly increased prices they must pay for labor, materials and equipment.

However, I believe the utilities should do what almost all business is doing—tighten their belts. They should watch every expenditure and reduce costs wherever possible. And I am certain that their costs can be reduced without hurting service.

More spend, more make

They are in an unusual position. The P.U.C. establishes a rate of return allowed the utilities. This means the more they spend — the more they earn. Thus, it is important that the companies watch their expenditures closely so they can never be accused of padding expenses — to increase their net profit.

The Public Utilities Commission is supposed to be the watchdog of the public. They should represent the public—and they do most of the time. Now and then, I come to the conclusion that the P.U.C. decides it should sit as a judge between the utilities and the public. This is wrong. The public (you and I) are not in any position to present our case before the P.U.C.

Action needed by the board

Adequate mental health services are most important. In its last session, the state legislature passed the Short-Doyle Act, which provides for reimbursement to local (county, in our case) governments for monies spent on existing mental health services and the expansion thereof, provided that certain basic standards are met.

Contra Costa County has not yet taken steps to gain the benefits offered by this act. Twenty-seven county organizations (A.A.U.W., professional groups, unions, etc.) and county officials have joined hands to form the Citizen's Community Mental Health Coordinating Committee.

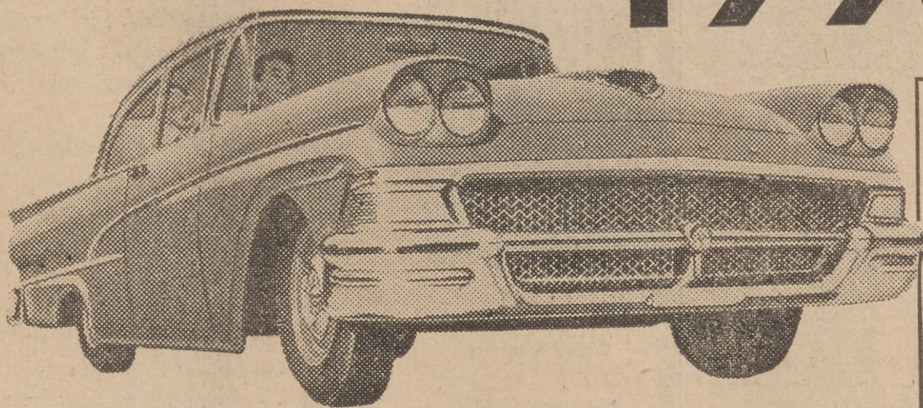

This committee, led by Mrs. Arthur Ross, will appear before the Board of Supervisors next Wednesday. They will ask the board to appoint a local Mental Health Advisory Board and "take such steps as the Short-Doyle Act requires in order that our residents may obtain the benefits available under the Act."

To repeat—this is a most important program and the supervisors should take action without delay.

On The Lighter Side

by INA BLIESNER
YE 4-3818

Last Thursday I made a point of attending the Junior Museum tea and gift sale at the home of Mrs. C. P. Howard, for this is SUCH a worthwhile project.

Countless children in this area have had their summers "sparkled" by the Museum's summer program which is most interesting and educational, as well as fun.

Mrs. A. D. Lindsay, who was chairman for the event, was saying that hopes are high that the permanent building (the former Sportsman's Club) will be ready for operation by the time school is out.

A wonderful way to prepare gifts

The gift items were unusually lovely and individual. Elsa (Mrs. Matt) Connelly looked her usual vivacious self in a holiday-red dress and perky Christmas apron as she served tea. Cita (Mrs. Mel) Nielsen was wearing a suave, long sleeved, brandy colored wool which was trimmed with satin in the same hue. Cita greeted guests as they arrived.

Earlier in the day, a group of us attended a luncheon at the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church. The decorations were just gorgeous — huge arrangements of gold horns of plenty filled with the most COLORFUL "mums." The tables were laden with red and gold leaves and flowers. And the food (how DO those women do it!) was simply delicious. Bill Rose, the Church Editor for the Tribune was a most interesting speaker, as had been predicted.

EVELYN GRAY, in charge of arrangements, was wearing the best looking tweedy grey sheath and a jaunty white satin beret. Ann Walsh was an autumn picture in a brown redingote type outfit — specked with spots of orange and yellow which looked, for all the world, like falling leaves. Her brown hat was dashing with its accent of pheasant feathers.

To mention a few attending: Mabel Bowber (one of the loveliest ladies ever!) and her daughter, Majorie Johnson, Bernice Condit, Mildred Mumford, Betty Cripe, Virginia Brandes (of the gorgeous red-blond hair and soft southern accent), Ruth Oliver (wearing a stunning white fur hat), Barbara Parshall, and Edna Robie. The last two were busy-busy with hostess duties.

Sixteen men on a dead man's ... et cetera

The "salty" dinner dance, mentioned before in this column, given by the "Flickers" recently, has all of the guests raving that they hadn't had such fun in years! Don't see how it could miss — for it was a welcome change from the usual parties. As the guests entered the Pittsburgh Yacht Club they immediately felt as if they were in a typical waterfront cafe — a la T. V. fare.

The floor was covered with sawdust, the tables were covered with red and white checked cloths and, naturally, centered with candles in wax covered bottles. Each guest was "tattooed" with a ship's anchor on the back of his or her hand. From the tattoo shop they entered a waterfront photograph studio where their pictures were taken by Louise and Howard Burk.

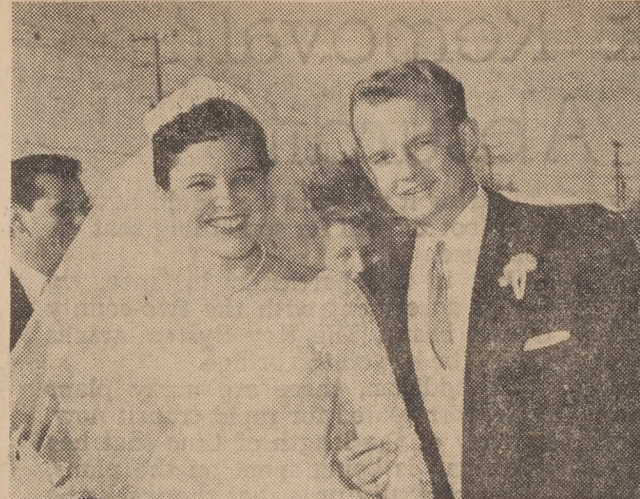

A "sparkling" prize went to Muriel and Ken Alexander for the best pose. Dressed in "cou'wester" grab they looked all set for one of those eastern hurricanes they have on the east coast. Every one enjoyed hors d'oeuvres and the delicious home made pizza donated by Barbara and Ramey Seeno. Ramey is the Commodore of the Yacht Club.

Home cooked "chow" was served about 10 o'clock with a menu of baked ham, "Mrs. Morris" beans, a tossed green salad, French bread and butter and coffee.

PLANS ARE REALLY beginning to "jell" as time approaches for the opening of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center's "Christmas Gift Box" on Wednesday. The other day a group of at least 50 women were on hand at the home of Mrs. J. R. LaRieu for a training course in selling techniques given by Mr. Paul Sack from the Emporium in San Francisco. Just can't resist quoting him: "Wish I had some of those women working for me!" He just couldn't get over their enthusiasm.

During a business-like "break" Mrs. La Rieu served luscious danish pastries and fragrant coffee. And then, last week, another group gathered to do some final pricing and, at the same time, have publicity picture taken. THAT morning really hummed with activity.

It has been an inspiring experience for a great many women to have had the opportunity of working with Vawn (Mrs. King) Tolles — who is one of the most diplomatic and capable persons

Barbara Muller Tells Her Troth To Bob Rogers

Engagement of Barbara Anne Muller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Muller of 52 Valley Drive, Orinda, to Ensign Robert Allen Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Rogers of Oakland, was announced recently by the traditional passing of candy at the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority house on the Berkeley campus of the University of California.

Barbara, a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma, is a graduate of Alameda High School, where she was vice-president of the Diana Club.

Bob, a graduate of Oakland High School and the University of California, is an ensign in the Navy. He is a member of Kappa Alpha, Winged Helmet and Triune.

Sandra Fuller, Alfred Ferrari Recite Vows

Sandra Gail Fuller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fuller of 60 E. Gavilan, Orinda, became the bride of Alfred Ben Ferrari, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Ferrari of Oakland, on November 3.

The wedding ceremony was performed at St. Elizabeth's Church, Oakland, with Father Emmanuel officiating. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Maid of honor was Joyce Losh; bridesmaids were Raeann Fuller and Aft Riddell.

Best man was John Starling. Serving as ushers were Leslie Ferrari and Michael Dowlen. A reception was held at the Montclair Women's Club.

How to prepare for your (own) party

Marie and Nick (those characters) Carter were the happy "victims" of a surprise party in their brand new home the other night. Marie, who claims a great distaste for such things, can't say enough for what fun they had. Seems that both of the Carters had just showered and were beginning to dress for a dinner party elsewhere, when they were decended upon by their friends. Their first cry was that they were due at another's home — when the hosts of that fictional affair stepped forward.

The group provided every bit of the party's "fixins" — even to large brown paper bags in which to carry the garbage. The Carters had been considering what to do with one large, blank wall and had finally decided that a huge piece of driftwood would be the answer.

Consequently, they recieved, from their friends, a very tiny piece of driftwood accompanied by a big bag of fifty cent pieces — so now the wall will be adorned.

STARRY EYED over being a grandmother for the first time, is Mrs. Julie Lindsay. Talk about Marlene Dietrich being the MOST glamorous grandmother. You should see THIS one! She looked absolutely devastating the other night in a sleek electric blue jersey. Huge pearl and brilliant earrings were matched with decorative chignon pins. The Lindsey's grandson's name is Gail Lindsey Harte.

In the same group was blonde and lovely, Pat La Pountry who was wearing a cream colored silk knit applique with satin. Pat is an avid rider and can be found most any day at the "Rocking R Bar T Ranch." She loves football, too, and hasn't missed a 49er game. In Los Angeles — thanks to a game flight — Pat reports that the restaurants "Villa Nova" and "Villa Capri" are a must. Hope that all of you had the very BEST Thanksgiving Day ever!

MacDonald-Hills Troth

Engagement of Judith Ann Hills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hills of Piedmont, to James Lindell MacDonald Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. James L. MacDonald of Las Aromas, Orinda, has been announced.

The news was told at a recent birthday dinner for Mrs. Hills, and also by Judy to her classmates at the Merritt School of Nursing when she passed candy at Senior Hall. The wedding is tentatively planned to follow her graduation next August.

During the Christmas holidays Mr. and Mrs. Hills will entertain for college friends of the affianced pair.

Jim has just completed three years of Marine Corps service abroad. He now plans to enter the University of California. Prior to entering the service he studied at the University of Oregon. Judy and Jim have known each other since their junior high school days in Piedmont, after which the Hills moved east, returning to Piedmont three years ago.

Prep Squads Take to Hardwoods for Practice Tilts

Miramonte Enters League; Pleasant Hill Trimming

Coach Sets Dutton, Millham, Ipson as Quint Mainstay

Daily practice sessions are underway with Coach Art Poulin at the head of the Pleasant Hill basketball varsity and while the squad is down to 24, another trimming is due soon as he plans to get down to 18 or 20 men.

The Rams no doubt will miss Bob Ritchie, their all-county high scoring player of last season but hope to make up for it with all around play and each player doing a little more scoring to bring up the grand total.

LIKE EVERY other squad, practice sessions have been limited and with the grid players having only last week it will take time and game experience to smooth out the squad.

Standouts to date have been three varsity players from last year, Bill Dutton (F), Dan Ipson (F), and Warren Millham (G), while Bill Atkinson (F), Matt Fitch (C) and Stu Robinson (G) up from the JV club of last year are making strong bids for varsity berths.

THE BEES of last season have contributed Bill Locatelli (F), Tom Larscheid (G) and Bill Atkinson (F) and each has a good chance to see plenty of action.

The Rams have six practice tilts on tap before league play opens in mid January. The Ram practice schedule follows:

December 3, Harry Ellis, Pleasant Hill, 3:30; December 6, Armijo, Pleasant Hill, 3:30; December 10, Hayward, 3:30; December 13-14, Miramonte Jamboree; December 19, Balboa, Pleasant Hill, 3:30.

All County Football Team Selected by Coaches

The All County Football Team of 1957 was selected last week after a poll was taken of all varsity coaches.

The group met at Mt. Diablo High and each coach nominated players for the team and gave a brief talk relative to the merits of each candidate.

A ballot was then taken and it wound up with champion Pitt netting three top spots while Pacifica and Pleasant Hill had two each. Antioch, Las Lomas, Mt. Diablo and Acalanes placed one player to round out the top eleven.

Because the voting was so close a 12-man first team was picked by the varsity coaches.

Greer Nabs Title

Joe Greer, 38 year old pro from Yakima, Washington, is the new Northern California Pro Golf Champ, thanks to 50 yard pitch shot that fell within six inches of the 54th and final hole at Diablo Country Club last Friday.
San Francisco's Ken Venturi was a close second with his 72-72-65. Greer netted a 72-69-67 for his share of the $5,000 purse.
George Bruno pegged a 69-73-73 for $200; John McMullen shot a 70-70-72 for $500 and a third place shot in the tourney.

Frisco Deadeye Garners Berth On Gael Frosh

Showing the form that made him an all-city and all-Northern California choice for Poly high last year, Gene Womack moved onto the starting unit of Bob Hagler's St. Mary's frosh squad yesterday.

Hagler said the San Francisco deadeye rated the spot because of his shooting and rebounding strength.

Frosh drills emphasized team plays and rebounding snap as the eagles were put through their daily three-hour practice session at Moraga.

"The boys are looking more and more like a unit, they should be great during the season if they don't get overconfident," was Hagler's comment on his charges after they lost a spirited scrimmage to the experienced varsity forces to climax the training session.

The Gael yearlings, hailed as the best frosh club in the area, will open against Stanford Tuesday as a preliminary to the varsity tilt.

'Cookie' Honored By Oakland Club

Harry ((Cookie)) Lavagetto of Orinda was honored by his friends at a dinner November 20 at Mich's Restaurant, sponsored by the Knights and Knaves, an Oakland club which gives credit to athletes.

Lavagetto is the manager of the Washington Senators.
The tribute to Lavagetto was not intended to point out the fact that his ball club ended up in a low spot in the standings last year, but rather to honor a man who has been part of organized baseball for many years and who play hard and could lose as gracefully and graciously as he won, said one spokesman of the group.
Sam Berceovich is the new head of Knights and Knaves succeeding Eddie (Bobo) Miller. The Lavagetto dinner was his first official social act.

Returning Lettermen Prove Main Forte of Knights, Don Knight Quint Opener Tues At Piedmont

The Las Lomas hoops squad has been cut to 20 players with 12 making up the varsity unit and eight holding down berths on the junior varsity.

The opening game takes place Tuesday when the Knights take on Piedmont in a 3:15 game at the Highlanders court and as a result few practice sessions remain so its double time as far as Coach Merrill Callow is concerned.

HIS SQUAD does have more experience than was the case at this time last year.

He has a number of holdovers including three lettermen plus reserves and junior varsity and bee grads. Letter winners returning are Art Dalbay, Bob McDougall and Pete Ostrom.

Lineups are shifting from day to day and early in the week there were two units pretty close on a par.

One group was composed of Roger Piller, Art Dalbay, Clark Ransome, Roger Colwell and Bob Gomes. Another quint was made up of Don Hopkins, Bob McDougall, Steve Moore, Tom Nichols and Pete Ostrom.

DAVE WEIL and Dan Miller were substituting in both units and showed to advantage.

Ransome is a transfer student who did well in football and gives a promise in basketball as well. It's early and only a few games will give Coach Callow a better line on his squad. One thing certain they seem to be a well balanced group with good two or better depth in each spot.

The complete practice schedule prior to league play is as follows: December 3 Piedmont, there, 3:15; December 10, Amador, Las Lomas, 3:30; December 13-14, Miramonte Jamboree; December 18, San Ramon, Las Lomas, 7; January 4, Cal Aggie JV, Davis, 7; January 7, Vallejo, Vallejo, 3:15.

The Acalanes varsity squad is down to 15 and workouts have been picked up and quickened the pace as Coach Dan Glines seeks to work out a starting combination for his opening practice game Tuesday when the Dons play Vallejo at home in a 3:30 tilt.

The varsity game actually will start around 5 with the Bees coming at the 3:30 time.

GLINES IS in his first year with the Dons and as a result has a big job of first getting to know the players and secondly whipping them into shape and adapting them to his style of play.

Fundamental drills and defense have been stressed in early workouts.

Six lettermen are on hand in John Phair, Stu Busby, Mike Kritt-scher, Dave Bojarsky, George McMeans and Mac Hancock.

Paul Collins, Tom Hull and Morgan Jellett are up from the bees and have given the vets notice they will give them a run for the starting spots.

DWANE STULTS is a newcomer who has caught the eye of Glines and could be a surprise. Collins was a standout Bee as a frosh last year and with added height and weight is making a strong bid for a starting spot.

The Dons like other clubs have a 10 game JV schedule which will keep the reserves busy and give them needed experience. Varsity practice games other than Vallejo are:

December 6, California 145's at UC, 3:15; December 10, Harry Ellis, Richmond, 3:30; December 13-14, Miramonte Jamboree; December 16, Albany, Albany, 3:30; January 3, San Ramon, Acalanes, 7; January 7, John Swett, John Swett, 3:30.

only East Bay showing this year.

Tickets are available from Oakland Ski Club members at $1.25 each. Local members are Esther and Frank Bird, Eleanor and Steve Brody, Alice and Bill Carpenter, Rita Frost, Loretta and Martin Jacobs, Fred Jenkinson, Bill Kohlhaas, Betty and Ed Kozel, Kristine Kruger, Virginia Markham, Jane and Bill Meinheit, Sally and Dean Montagne, Jinny and Les Parry, John Shilich, Jo-ane and Carl Szybalski, Bob Hinds and Vi and Carson White.

Yule Seal Sale Hits Total of $12,589.51

Returns for the first week of the 1957 Christmas Seal Sale total $12,589.51, according to George W. Wacker, Christmas Seal Sale Chairman for the Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association. This is slightly over the returns at the end of the first week of the 1956 Christmas Seal Sale.

Over 88,000 letters, containing three or more sheets of Christmas Seals, were mailed to Contra Costa County residents for delivery by November 15, Wacker said.

This represents the once a year appeal for funds for the tuberculosis association's year round tuberculosis control program. Christmas Seals are sold thru the mail, so that the donor can decide in the privacy of his own home how much he wants to give for tuberculosis control.

OUR POLICY:

We take pride in the fact that we are the oldest established jewelry store in Walnut Creek and that we have never resorted to gimmicks or high pressure in order to sell diamonds.

Realtors Hear Ass'n Lawyer

Walter Kaitz, attorney, was guest speaker of the Contra Costa County Real Estate Board at the weekly breakfast on Monday, at the El Nido Rancho in Lafayette.

Kaitz has been the Legislative Council for the California Real Estate Association for the past four sessions of the Legislature. In this capacity he works closely with the State Association on all legislative matters.

Kaitz talked on "The 1957 Session of the California Legislature." He discussed briefly the overall legislative picture last session as it affected CREA and realtors, and talked on real estate and Mortgage loan legislation.

TRANSOCEAN

Super Constellation

service on ALL
PACIFIC SCHEDULES

Starting in January, 1958, Transocean's "extra-fare service at such a fair price" is extended beyond Hawaii to the Orient via Wake, Guam and Okinawa. Now you can fly the short route to the Orient at super-speed, in pressurized, air-conditioned, sound-proof comfort. The fare is less than "tourist-class" on other lines.

Transocean offers the only Super Constellation service from the United States to Hawaii and the Orient. The long-range, ultra-safe Super Constellation aircraft has proved its superiority in service to Australia and Europe; now Transocean make its available on all of its flights over the Pacific Ocean.

All Transocean flights include extra luxuries, such as: complimentary full-course meals and in-between snacks by famous International Room chefs; your own reserved deep-cushion seat, adjustable for lounging or sleeping; trained personnel who enjoy treating you like royalty

...in STORES and OFFICES

More electric POWER can make your location look more attractive and step up income!

The more well lighted a store or office is, the more people it attracts. More people mean more income, and that is why the use of electricity has more than doubled in stores and offices in the past 10 years.

Surveys show the average sales increase with new lighting ranges from 19% with automobile dealers to 40% with hardware stores, with the middle bracket showing gains of 21% for apparel shops, 24% for drug stores, 20% for food stores, 24% for gas stations, 27% for furniture and appliance stores, 22% for general merchandise, and 37% for jewelry stores.

Better lighting stops twice as many passersby, pulls one-third more of them into the store, steps up impulse buying, cuts down errors, returns, and accidents. It also results in a better sales and office force because it cuts out that tired feeling of eye fatigue.

Well-planned lighting in a professional office makes patients and clients relax while they wait in an atmosphere of competence and efficiency, and reduces mistakes in typing and other office machine work.

Stay modern and keep up with competitors—call an electrical contractor using qualified electricians, and get a free estimate on your power needs. MORE POWER MEANS BETTER SERVICE FOR CUSTOMERS, PATIENTS, CLIENTS—AND MORE INCOME FOR YOU!

Give your fruit trees a real clean-up spraying. Insects, and plant diseases like Peach Leaf Curl, Shot-Hole Disease and Brown Rot, can seriously damage trees and ruin fruit. Spray now. Don't wait!

Get both insects and plant diseases!

Use BORDOIL

Revolutionary fungicide; won't clog spray nozzles, won't stain nearby walls.

Safe to use on plants like apricots, which are susceptible to sulphur poisoning.

Use as a dormant spray against Peach Leaf Curl and Shot-Hole Disease which causes gumming and kills fruit wood. Or as an all-year spray for Powdery Mildew and Rust on Roses, Vegetables, and Flower Plants.

plus SCALE-O-KIL

As a clean-up dormant spray for control of fungus diseases and scale, overwintering forms of red spider and other insects.

SCALE-O-KIL used by itself on Citrus, Avocados, Camellias and other hardy evergreen plants kills scale with one or two sprayings instead of the 5 or 6 generally needed with common oil sprays.
